2 DESCRIPTIONS OF CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

2.1 Composition and activities of the Board of Directors

2.1.1 Election of Board members

Board members are elected annually at the Annual General Meeting. According to the Articles of Association, the company's Board of Directors must have at least five and no more than seven members. The Annual General Meeting elects the Chair of the Board of Directors, the Vice-Chair and the members of the Board for the next term of office, which begins when the Board members are elected at the Annual General Meeting and ends at the following Annual General Meeting. The Board members do not have a special order of appointment.

2.1.2 Planning the composition of the Board of Directors

The Nomination Committee prepares and presents for the Annual General Meeting a proposal on the number of Board members and the Board's composition.

When planning the Board's composition, the Nomination Committee takes into account:

- the company's development stage and needs
- the areas of competence required by the tasks of the Board of Directors and its committees
- long-term needs and successor planning and the company's ownership structure

Key factors, in addition to the Board members' personal characteristics, are:

- the members' mutually complementary educational backgrounds and competence
- experience of an international operating environment and Raute's key sectors, project business, management and different business cultures

A person nominated as a member of Raute's Board of Directors must have the required competence for the tasks, must match the Board's competence profile and have sufficient time at their disposal for Board work. The independence of the Board members is assessed based on the independence criteria specified in the Finnish Corporate Governance Code for listed companies. Raute's goal is to take diversity issues into account in the Board's nomination and evaluation process also in terms of nationality and age and gender distribution.

2.1.3 Description of the Board's activities

The Board of Directors of Raute Corporation administers the company's operations in accordance with the regulations laid down in the law and the Articles of Association. The Board of Directors also acts as the Board for Raute Group, which handles and decides on all important issues that affect the entire Group or the operations of its units, regardless of whether the issue legally requires a decision from the Board of Directors. Diversity is examined through a variety of factors that include the Board's age and gender distribution, the educational and professional backgrounds of the members, experience that is significant in terms of the position and personal characteristics. The purpose of the principles concerning diversity is to contribute to ensuring that the competence and experience of the Board as a whole, as well as the diversity of its composition are sufficient to meet the needs of Raute's business model and ownership structure. In terms of the gender distribution, the goal is for at least one member of each gender to be represented.

The Board of Directors assesses the achievement of diversity in its self-evaluation.

2.2 Board Committees

3 DESCRIPTION OF THE MAIN PRINCIPLES OF THE INTERNAL CONTROL PROCEDURES AND RISK MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS RELATED TO THE FINANCIAL REPORTING PROCESS

3.1 General description of risk management and internal control

Raute's risk management policy is approved by the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors has determined the Group's general appetite to risk and has approved the risk management policy on a general level. In addition, the Board has approved the financing policy for the company and handles the tasks of the Audit Committee. In that role, the Board is responsible for internal control and organizing risk management, and for monitoring their efficiency. The Board of Directors monitors the implementation of internal control. The Group's Executive Board has defined the Group's general risk management policy and operating policies, as well as the boundaries of the organization's powers.

The Group's President and CEO controls the implementation of the risk management principles in the entire Group, while the Presidents of the Group companies are responsible for risk management in their respective companies. The members of the Group's Executive Board are responsible for their own areas of responsibility across company boundaries. The Chief Financial Officer is responsible for the coordination of risk management. The President and CEO and the CFO regularly report significant risks to the Board.

There is no separate internal auditing organization in the Raute Group. Raute's Controller function oversees internal control, develops internal control and risk management procedures together with the rest of the organization, and monitors compliance with risk management principles, operational policies and powers. The absence of a separate internal auditing organization is taken into account in the planning of the annual internal control plan, the contents of Group reporting, audits based on quality control systems and the monitoring of subsidiaries.

The key risks associated with the company's operations and international business are discussed in more detail in the company's financial statements release available on its web-site.

3.2 Internal control and risk management related to the financial reporting process

Internal control and procedures related to Raute's financial reporting process have been developed to ensure that the financial reports published by the company present an essentially accurate and sufficient description of the Group's financial position.

Raute's consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards, IFRS. The interim reports for 2022, including the financial statements release, were prepared according to the IAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting standard.

3.2.1 Key control procedures

The Board controls the preparation of the Financial Statements via regular reporting from the management. In addition to the annual budget, the Group makes use of forecasts, which are drawn up regularly for each month of the next quarter and for the entire year, against which exceptions are analyzed and reported to the Board. The Board also controls Raute's financial situation on a quarterly basis, via financial risk reviews, cash flow forecasts, and finance and balance sheet stress tests.

The Group's finance team prepares the consolidated financial statements, under the control and steering of the CFO, who ensures that set schedules are kept, analyses variances against comparison periods, forecasts and budgets, verifies internal control points and manages needed corrective actions. The consolidated financial statements are prepared on the basis of the data in the financial statements provided by all Group companies. The financial accounting of the Group companies is prepared according to both local accounting practices and Group's IFRS accounting principles with the help of the global financial accounting software, utilizing a joint chart of accounts also used for the Group reporting. Local entity controllers report the information to Group finance team according to a schedule set for the Group. VP Finance and business controllers within the Group finance team oversee the adherence to the reporting schedule, analyze the reported data, control the IFRS accounting data for Group reporting purposes, and ensure that financial accounting and management reporting are consistent with one another.

The Group uses Business Reviews, in which the management of various operative units and line organizations report to the President and CEO and the CFO on factors affecting the financial result of their area of responsibility, changes in forecasts and the most significant risks. The information compiled in the Business Reviews is used by the Group finance team when preparing forecasts for the Group. Senior management reviews and approves the management estimates and valuations, the Group's profit and loss reporting and forecasts and prepares reports for the Board of Directors.

A significant share of the Group's net sales is generated by the parent company's customer contracts based on percentage of completion over time. The principles of revenue recognition based on percentage of completion are defined at the Group level and their application is controlled by the Group finance team's specified controllers. The timing and accuracy of forecasts for customer contracts recognized over time is the responsibility of the project manager named to the project or another appointed person. The risk management procedures that are applied in projects are included in the parent company's quality system and are adapted, where applicable, to other Group companies. Internal control is carried out through the use of regular financial administration project reviews, which involve the controller as well as the head of project implementation. The head of project implementation reports the key contractual risks and changes in the project-specific forecasts and their causes at Executive Board meetings.

3.2.2 Control activities

Internal control and risk management procedures related to the financial reporting process are developed and managed together by the CFO and the controller organization. The controller function monitors the efficiency of internal control and risk management during the reporting process and reports on anomalies and insufficient control to the CFO. The CFO decides on whether corrective operative measures related to the anomalies will be taken, and also reports on the problems and development needs to the President and CEO and the Board of Directors, as well as to the manager who holds operative responsibility.

The management of the operative units ensures that the Group's internal control and risk management procedures are abided by in their area of responsibility and that the information produced by the financial reporting of their organization is timely, comprehensive and correct.

Raute's investor communications include financial reports, websites, and various meetings with investors in which the Group's senior management participate actively. Raute organizes press conferences in Helsinki in connection with the publication of the Financial Statements Review and Interim Reports in which analysts and investors are given the opportunity to meet the President and CEO and the CFO in person. When needed, the press conferences can be organized through a remote connection as well. The company avoids investor communication meetings during insider trading prohibitions.

More information on the management of insider issues is available on the company's website.
